(iii)	Average pre-berthing detention- on Port account (in hours) —	4.86	6.04

Average per-berthing has slightly increased mainly because of increase in the pre-berthing detention at Haldia, Mumbai, Jawarlal Nehru and Kandla Ports. This is attributable mainly to increase in average parcel size and marked increase in number of ships calling at ports. The cargo handling capacity at none of the major ports decreased during 2004-2005. The overall cargo handling capacity at these ports increased approximately to 398 million tonnes as on 31.3.2005 from 390 million tonnes on 31.3.2004.
